

HIGH MEAT PRICES WILL BE CONTINUED

Packers' Association Says Indications Point to Maintenance for Some Time to Come.

IS BLAMED ONTO EUROPE

War Stricken Areas Must First Resume Quotas of Production—Demand Rather Than Control Cause.

CHICAGO, April 11.—The American Meat Packers' association in a statement issued today declares that lower prices for meat may not be expected until the war stricken countries are enabled to resume their quota of production.

The statement reads in part: "The situation today in the meat industry is just about what Herbert Hoover and other food administration officials said it would be, as far back as the first of the year."

"That high prices are caused largely by heavy demands rather than any control aimed to stimulate production has recently been demonstrated very clearly in the case of eggs. When the minimum price fixed for eggs was removed, the supply of eggs in this country for meat production has recently been increased very clearly in the case of eggs."

"High prices will continue for a long time. Each day that brings a fresh nearer means a greater demand on this country for meat. The supply of meat is dependent first of all on the supply of live stock. European herds have been reduced by war to that extent, world production of live stock is crippled."
